Purpose	The purpose of this course is to help families create an academic plan to support a College applicant in their undergrad academic journey.
Format	The course consists in pre-recorded videos lessons and online coaching sessions
Accessibility	Students requiring special consideration because of some disability should contact me at their earliest convenience

Course Description

The parent university goal is to help families create an academic plan for the parents and student for academic success. Defining the possible colleges and courses that the students will apply for, Locating resources to assist the student in the application process, organizing the documentation for application and preparing the student for future exams. And financial organization for academic expenses and preparing the student for possible scholarships and assistantships opportunities.

Requirements

The pre-recorded lessons and coaching sessions will cover up the course content focused on the application process and academic trajectory of the student. Also covering financial planning and deadline scheduling of all processes during the application. Throughout the course the parent will complete a series of assignments based on templates and activities.

To complete the course the parent will have to finish all modules and deliver the respective assignments for each module. Assignments must be submitted prior to the coaching sessions for instructors feedback review. The assignments will be graded according to the university standards and can be resubmitted. The completion of the course is not related to the grading, they are only suggestions for improvement and increase of possible application acceptance rate.
